COSMIC CONNECTION TRAINING FOR PAGAN MEN BY KAEDRICH OLSEN

for Pagan Men

Congratulation on undertaking this cosmic connection training, and welcome to the start of your new life.

For far too long you have struggled without the clarity and guidance you have been seeking your whole life.

You may not have realized it, but it was always a part of you, and who you have always been. It has just been hidden from you, this whole time.

As you work through these three runes, and start to apply the connection process, you will notice a subtle but distinct change.

The more you do this, the more that change will transpire in all that you do, and all that you are becoming.

I wish you well on this journey of discovery and awakening.

HAIL, to you!

The Runes in Your Life

Take a few moments to examine how these runes manifest in your world.

Remember, runes are not the shapes you see, the sounds you hear, or the names we speak.

Runes are the subtle forces at play underlying the events in our world and daily lives.

To better understand what runes are, allow yourself a moment of contemplation on each of these runic concepts.

Isa –

- What are the quiet moments in your day?
- Who is there, what is happening, where are you?
- What are the quiet moments in your mind?
- That space between thoughts.
- Can you imagine what would bring a moment of peace, calm and stillness to your day?

Ansuz –

How do you talk? What kinds of words do you use? What speed to you speak?

How do you best learn? Seeing things, hearing things, touching things, thinking about them?

What kinds of things do you like to talk about, what types of books do you read, what kinds of movies or TV shows do you watch?

Othala –

What are things like at home currently?

What was your family of origin like?

Examine the communities that you are a part of. The types of people, the things you do. What are some words that describe this community?

How do you affect your communities and current family? What is the place you hold with these people?

What are the things you will leave behind, for the next generation, when you leave this world?
